

Arts Facts . . . SAT Scores and the Arts
 Students with four years of high school arts and music classes have higher SAT scores than students with one-half year or less.

Arts Students Outperform Non-Arts Students on SAT (Average Points Better on SAT by Arts Students)

- Data from The College Board show that students who take four years of arts and music classes while in high school score 91 points better on their SATs than students who took only one-half year or less (scores of 1070 vs. 979, respectively).
  - The College Board’s report, "Arts at the Core: Recommendations for advancing the state of arts education in the 21st Century" by the National Task Force on the Arts Education recommends education stakeholders consider arts requirements for high school core curricula, high school graduation requirements, and college and university admission requirements in the arts (including arts courses in GPA calculations), working with regional accrediting agencies.
  - *Reflect the Critical Reading and Mathematics portions of the SAT only. The new Writing section of the test is excluded from this analysis for year-to-year comparison purposes. Students with four years of art and music classes averaged 526 on the Writing portion of the test—56 points higher than students with one-half year or less of arts/music classes (470).
